

For the General Public

To the general public who may be involved during the activities of the event, we bring to your attention the event in operation during this time and at this locale; and that film, videotape, recording, photographs or other media material content and footage will be taken of activities related to the event and that if you do so choose to maintain your presence here it is taken that you have impliedly consented to being filmed, videotaped, recorded or photographed. Any such media material, content or footage that is shared with the organizers of the event, Free Money Day, may be subsequently used in publications and released by the Post Growth Institute.